Activities Group To Initiate Four Leading Women At Noon Today

Betty Bacon, Gretchen Feiker, Adele Gusack, Frances Thompson Chosen

LUNCHEON TO FOLLOW

Clara Critchfield, Mary Lee Watkins Extended Honorary Memberships

Hour Glass, honorary activities sorority, will initiate Betty Bacon, Gretchen Feiker, Adele Gusack, and Frances Thompson today at noon in the Pi Beta Phi rooms. At the same time honorary memberships will be extended to Clara Critchfield and Mary Lee Watkins. Following the initiation the new members will be guests of honor at luncheon at the Tally-Ho.

Only Juniors Initiated

Eligibility to Hour Glass is on the basis of scholarship and prominence in campus activities. This year Hour Glass inaugurates a new custom of initiating only juniors. Critchfield and Watkins, though seniors are being recognized with honorary memberships because of outstanding work in extracurricular activities.

Betty Bacon has been prominent in dramatics and publications. She is dance director of Troubadours, a member of Cue and Curtain, and treasurer of Gamma Eta Zeta.

Gretchen Feiker's particular field has been athletics, being president of W. A. A., board representative from Women's Athletics to the Student Council, and holding letters in tennis, baseball, and soccer.

Leads in "Louder Please" and "Three-Cornered Moon" have occupied Adele Gusack's time in the last year. Sigma Delta Phi has honored her for distinction in speech arts.

Major Letter Winner

Frances Thompson has been awarded major letters in baseball, basketball, and soccer, and has just been re-elected to the W. A. A. board for the third year.

Panhellenic Council honored Clara Critchfield by electing her as president. She has been in varsity debate three years, on the Cherry Tree staff two years, representative of debating on Student Council, and president of Delta Sigma Rho.

Mary Lee Watkins has served on the Student Council, W. A. A. board, Cherry Tree staff, and holds major letters in basketball and hockey. She was also selected as a member of the all-Washington hockey team.

Drive to Clear Up Prom Loss Started

Representatives Will Receive Donations to Pay Off Class Deficits

Final arrangements in the drive to make up the deficits remaining from last year's Junior Prom and Freshman Frolic have been announced by Bernard Fagelson, chairman of the committee in charge.

In this drive, sorority representatives will go about the campus tomorrow and Thursday collecting voluntary contributions from both students and faculty members. The committee has set the regular sum to be contributed at 25 cents, and all money donated will be handled through the office of the treasurer of the University.

Each sorority has selected six members, headed by a chairman, and all will be supplied with identification cards. The delegations will be divided in two, three girls working on each day.

The hours of collection will be from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m. and 4 to 7 p. m. Members of the all-university committee in charge are: Bernard Fagelson, chairman, Amanda Chittum, Mary Lee Watkins, Grace Giffen, and Katherine Cutler.

Council Sets May 8 For Officer Election

The meeting of the Student Council announced for May 1 by the President of the Council, Bill Helvestine, has been postponed until Tuesday, May 8. Activities representation would not be completed in sufficient time to permit participation in the election of officers of the incoming Council if the meeting were held tonight, therefore, the joint meeting of new and old groups has been deferred.

The following representatives, elected last Thursday and Friday, will make up the Council for 1934-35: Ted Pierson, Ross Pope, Eleanor Boehs, Ben Sullivan, Jr., James Edwards, Charles Chestnut, Bill C. Martin, Jr., Chris Kostoukos, Mary L. Yanch, Hazel Haynes, Katherine Cutler, William M. Hoover, Jr., Paul L. Moats and Alice Althaus.

Cherry Tree Hall of Fame Honor Recipients

Law School, Junior College Lead Vote For Council Seats

Balloting for Student Governing Body Falls Off 292 From 1933 High

Election day enthusiasm, as in the past, was largely concentrated in Junior College and Law School in the Student Council elections held last Thursday and Friday.

In Junior College Ted Pierson, Ross Pope and Eleanor Boehs led the field of nine persons by considerable margins. Law School elected the favorite, Charles Chestnut, by a considerable margin over Bill Martin, Jr., the "dark horse" winner of second place. Columbian College vote was unusually close but voting was considerably off from that of last year with Ben Sullivan, Jr., and James Edwards coming in first and second, respectively. Four votes separated second and third places in Columbian, and Newell Lusby, considered a serious contender to place, lagged in last place of four candidates.

Cutler Re-elected

Fine Arts school victor was Katherine Cutler, who is present incumbent from that post. She won over Vernon Goodrich by two votes. One vote separated the winner in the School of Education, Alice Althaus. The other five schools held uncontested elections.

The Student Council, true to prediction, voted to accept Floyd's amendment to the Constitution validating the election of the present representation from Law School and Columbian College, at a meeting held Wednesday night prior to elections.

Little pre-election campaigning was carried on, but Thursday and Friday electioneering was carried on in a cut-throat fashion at the polls, and political propaganda in the form of cards and paper bills extolled the abilities and

Degree Candidates Must Apply Today

Today is the last day candidates for degrees and junior college certificates may qualify for graduation at the convocation in June. All candidates must comply with the regulations found on pages 71 and 72 of the current catalogue.

These of candidates wishing to receive either the degree of Doctor of Philosophy or Doctor of Education in June are due today also, and candidates for the degrees of Doctor of Philosophy and Doctor of Education wishing to receive their degrees in February 1935 must file the subjects of their theses today with the office of the registrar. Subjects for these must be approved in writing by the students' advisors before submission to the registrar's office.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Kappa Delta Fall in Final Encounters for One-Year Possession of Delta Sigma Rho Cups

Winners of the fifth annual intramural debating contest were Phi Sigma Kappa and Sigma Kappa, who defeated Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Kappa Delta, respectively, in the finals last Tuesday and Wednesday nights in Corcoran Hall. The victors will receive silver loving cups awarded by Delta Sigma Rho, honorary speech arts fraternity, which sponsored the debates.

John Lathrop and William Donaldson were the members of the winning team which defeated Sigma Alpha Epsilon. The members of the latter team were Lowell Bradford and Scott Kirkpatrick, who took the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved, That the United States should adopt the British system of radio control." Cherry Tree Names 10 Students Most Outstanding In University

Copies of 1934 Yearbook Available Today at Publications Office for $4

Pictures of the men and women chosen by a faculty committee as the outstanding students in the University this year are included as one of the features of the 1934 Cherry Tree which is released today and will be on sale at the Publications Office.

Mary Lee Watkins, Kermit Stewart, Virginia Hawkins, Harriet Atwell, William Helvestine, Wendell Bain, Joseph Danzansky, Clara Critchfield, Catherine Prichard and Walter Rhinehart were named.

The selections were made by a committee composed of Dean Henry Gratton Doyle, Prof. Elmer Louis Kayser and Mrs. Vinnie G. Barrows, director of women's personnel guidance.

Pictures of Edith Mish, Helen Nutter and Dora Ramirez, chosen by "Buddy" Rogers last January as the most beautiful girls in the University, are also featured.

Virginia Hawkins is editor of the book and Wendell Bain, business manager. It is dedicated to Provost William Allen Wilbur and the theme is the sea of which he is a lover. Many unique features are used for the first time, including a beautiful views section, pictures of the entire faculty and the Hall of Fame.

Students holding receipts paid for in advance subscriptions may obtain their books at the Publications Office, 2016 H street N. W., after 9 a. m. today. Copies may be also be bought at $4.

Scholarship Society To Fete Prospects

Seven Freshmen to Be Guests Of Phi Eta Sigma at Smoker Tonight

Phi Eta Sigma, honorary freshman scholastic fraternity, will honor at a smoker in Lambie House at 8 o'clock tonight, seven freshmen whose first semester grades are such that they may become eligible for admission to the fraternity at the end of the year.

The invited guests are: George R. Brown, Preston Cloud, Guy Ervin, Davis P. Harding, Gilbert Kloth, Tracy Mulligan and Theodore Pasma. Provost Wilbur, Dean Doyle and Professor Roberts will extend greetings of the fraternity to the guests.

The purpose of the smoker is to spur on to greater efforts those men who were just under the required index for the first semester. Eligibility is based on a 3.5 index for either the first semester or the first year.

Inter-American Studies Group Sponsors Varona Commemorative Assembly

Dr. Ricardo Alfaro, minister from Panama; Dr. Manuel Concealed, minister from Costa Rica, and Dr. Agrian Recinon, minister from Guatemala, were among the distinguished members of the diplomatic corps from the Latin American countries who were present at the ceremonies in commemoration of Enrique Jose Varona, poet, philosopher, teacher, and statesman, which were held last Wednesday evening in Corcoran Hall under the auspices of the University's Center of Inter-American Studies and the Inter-American Forum.

Dr. Marquez Sterling, Ambassador from Cuba, delivered a eulogy of the great Cuban man of letters who died last November. Dr. A. Curtis Wilgus, director of the Center, presided.

The speaker was introduced by Dr. Leo S. Rowe, director general of the Pan-American Union, who called attention to the parallel between the career of Varona and that of Ambassador Sterling.

Beatrice Newhall, of the Pan-American Union, spoke concerning the life and work of Varona. She said, "While Varona's greatest influence upon generations of his countrymen was in the realm of the mind, he was not content to watch life from the sidelines. He was a proponent of revolution. After the bonds uniting Cuba with Spain had been severed at the beginning of 1900, he served as Secretary of Instruction and in 1919 was elected vice president of the Republic."

Demonstrating Generosity

THE generosity with which students and members of the faculty make contributions to worthy causes is being demonstrated this week for the second time in four months.

In December, through an appeal of The Hatchet, 52 baskets of food were contributed to help provide a happy Christmas for needy families.
The meats and groceries descended upon the committee in such quantities as to far surpass its most optimistic hopes. Members were astounded at the generous response the campus would make on such short notice and with so little urging.

Last week the Student Council first brought forth its plan to pay the deficits of the Junior Prom and Freshmen Frolic which have plagued everyone connected with the University for approximately one year.
Already the response to this drive has been equally as gratifying and the drive does not officially begin until tomorrow. At the Council meeting more than $13 was collected in a few minutes. Sixty-five sorорity girls have promised to give their time and charm to canvassing and the committee reports that no one has yet refused to do his part.

It is a welcome relief to be asked frankly to make an outright contribution of a quarter or half dollar and have it over with and we believe that this fact will encourage everyone to do his part.

More Band Concerts

THE first of the 1934 spring Yard concerts by the University Band was presented last Wednesday afternoon. The program consisted of Soupe's "King Cotton March," von Suppe's "Light Cavalry Overture," and Billy Hill's popular "Wagon Wheels."

The music does not rank as great, but inasmuch as it was accompanied by the usual amount of foottapping, the concert was

The technical ability of the band unfortunately did not appear to the best advantage because of the cold weather and the playful wind which frequently snatched the music from the players' stands.

The custom of spring afternoon concerts is an excellent one and one which by all means should be continued. It is something, which can not be found at any of our neighboring campuses, which will soon become a University tradition, and which should be a source of enjoyment in the future.

Don't Miss It

YESTERDAY the University Yard began to take on the aspects of a carnival lot. Parts of the Ferris wheel and midway colonnade were spread carelessly about in interesting looking piles while workmen began the task of constructing a "junior amusement park" right in "our own back yard."

Of course the proceeds of the Fiesta are going to be used for the University Band and that organization is one of our most colorful and popular extra-curricular assets among both day and night students.
For that reason you should attend the Fiesta.

But at the same time we want to remind students who were in the University two years ago what a good time they had at the Carnival, how all your friends were there for the dancing, games, Ferris wheel rides, vaudeville shows, and to see the queen crowned.

Everyone will be there, thousands of people in a typical gala festival spirit. Don't miss it.

Cherry Tree Achieves Uniqueness

Campus Views Section, Hall of Fame, and Odd Treatment of the Sea Theme in Blue and White Are Features

By John T. Madigan

AN eyebrow lifting campus views section in "duo-tone brown," a suspense holding Hall of Fame, and an odd treatment of the theme—the sea—in blue and white—are the principal features which this year's editors have added to the art of publishing Cherry Trees. Although much of the book is necessarily the same from year to year, the edition, which is available for the first time this morning, is sufficiently unique, and, according to at least one opinion, improved, that it is by far more than just another yearbook.

The book is bound in a striking dark blue with an imposing cut of a ship under full sail impressed on the front cover. Both in the selection of the cover and in the color scheme throughout there is life and vivaciousness which seems to me was one of the few faults one could find with the last several editions.
Within the cover, the foreword and dedication section is no less striking with ships, gulls and fish dipping or sailing about. There we find that the book is a log of our year's voyage through the University and we are wished Bon Voyage for the future—a clever idea.

The book is dedicated to Dean Wilbur and the theme was chosen with a view to his love of the sea.
You will be interested in the brief history of the University, written by him, which reveals some little known facts.

Little can be said about the views section other than it is the finest thing of its kind which one could ever hope to produce. You must see it to appreciate it.

Another innovation is the division of the University faculty into colleges and divisions, with group pictures including every member from each college, and an individual picture of the dean or director. Heretofore only pictures of the heads of the divisions were included. There is still room for improvement here in that the group pictures are not very orderly or impressive looking, but that is about the only fault one can find with the entire book.

A unique idea has been used on the page devoted to the Rouser's Club, included for the first time.
The pictures are arranged on the page so that they make the letters G. W. as the group does at the football games.

The March of Events section is an improvement over last year's in arrangement. The women's sports section seems all inclusive and practically everyone in that department has her picture gracing at least one page if not two or three.

But, of course, best of all, 900 different people have their photographs in the book, exclusive of Alumni Secretary Outlines Numerous Contacts Between University and 10,000 of The Graduates

Each Has Duty Toward Other Which Alumni Program Seeks to Fulfill

By Marcelle Le Meneger
Secretary of the Alumni Association

NEXT month some six hundred seniors will receive their degrees.
They may look forward to becoming members of an alumni body of which they may well be proud.
George Washington University graduates to the number of more than 10,000 are found throughout the United States and foreign countries, in positions of leadership and trust in their communities. The roll of George Washington men and women who have achieved distinction—in public service, in the professions, in all walks of life—is an impressive one.

They may look back with satisfaction upon their University antecedents, secure in the knowledge that the degrees which they hold represent sound training, and carry the prestige of an institution with a long and notable history, and a future bright with promise.

Graduation means in no sense separation from the University. The relationship between the University and those who have educated themselves under its guidance is a bond that cannot be severed, and one which strengthens in its significance, combined to create a production that for absolute life-likeness and sheer dramatic intensity compared favorably with the best efforts of the many professional companies which have made the play such a familiar one.

The characterizations of two men were impressed indelibly upon the minds of all those who attended by Leonard Stevens and Harold Stepler.

Stevens is a familiar figure on George Washington stages but nothing that he has ever done approaches his work as the chief character in "Journey's End." He made the shattered, war-wrecked Stanhope, with his taut nerves and whiskey-soaked courage, seem the understandable and inevitable result of war.

Harold Stepler's personal triumph was a rather surprising one, for his part was relatively small, without any opportunity for dramatic fireworks. He accomplished it by his quiet and intelligent acting, his deep resonant voice, and his new and unusual foreshadowing personality. I shall always remember the elderly schoolmaster, sitting in a dugout fifty yards behind the front line trenches, trying to forget the war going on around him by reading Alice in Wonderland.

Walter Piek, in the sympathetic role of young Raleigh, lived up to the great things that are now expected of him. He was really splendid and, incidentally, was the possessor of the best and most consistent British accent in the cast.

Too much cannot be said about the excellence of Miss Constance Connor Brown's directing. After all, she was dealing with inexperienced young people, and the fact that so polished and well balanced a production was the result is an individual achievement.

Lack of space forbids a further detailing of the characters. They were all uniformly good. Mention

JUST BETWEEN US--

By LUDWIG CAMINITA, JR.

VERNA VOLZ, Pinch-Hitting for Caminita

PROFESSOR COURTLAND
BAKER of the English department has loaned some thirty students upon the PWA exhibit which is now occasioning so much comment at Corcoran Art Gallery. His quiz section in freshman rhetoric has been instructed to view the 500 representative works done under governmental patronage by the nation's unemployed artists, and to formulate critical opinions, stressing particularly the social interpretations of this cross-section of contemporary American art.

Because the collections so new that the final mandates of professional criticism have not as yet been delivered, the embryo connoisseurs will have unlimited exercise both of their artistic taste and of their judgment of the tempo of the times which the pictures are intended to embody.

Such an innovation in the conduct of a class in elementary composition is a welcome departure from the regular routine of freshman theme writing on hackneyed and banal topics. Comments on so living a subject, though they may be a bit hard on those representatives of the geographic arts, is much more in line, it seems, with the progressive trend in education with which the University has long been identified.

Making use of the PWA exhibit is an instance of the Capital's unparalleled opportunities for direct educational methods. Who can doubt that those students derive a real stimulation from the shifting of their practice writing from musty library subjects to subjects as new as today, and as vital as tomorrow?

CAN it be that the University has begun to take student politics seriously? Council elections last week were conducted in such an atmosphere of sobriety, with such a minimum of flattery and scull dughery, that the colorful ballyhoo of versity informed of his whereabouts and his achievements.

There is the matter of financial aid to the institutions. Realizing that the University, not financed by public taxation, must look to alumni and friends to make the difference between cost of operation and receipts in student fees; and eager

Journey's End Is Best Production Of Good Season

By Austin Cunningham

WHEN the announcement was made several weeks ago that Cue and Curtin had chosen "Journey's End" for its final appearance of the season, even the Club's best friends were pessimistic as to the result. The difficulty of staging the famous play, the attention to detail entailed in realistically presenting it, and above all, the mature acting that it required, were well known.

On last Thursday and Friday evenings Cue and Curtin answered all these doubts with the greatest work of its history. The performances of the 12 men who made up the cast, together with Newell Lusby's setting and Floyd Sparks' sound effects, combined to create a production that for absolute life-like-
ness and sheer dramatic intensity
efforts of the many professional

Woman Reporter Finds Fair Sex Feature of Fiesta

Queens, Chorines and Song-birds Take Spotlight in Season's Big Show

Magicians, cannibals, chorus girls, fashion shows, a bearded lady, musical broadcasts, a beautiful queen crowned—all native talent, no professionals! Step this way, please. Two-bits, and the wonders are revealed.

Women, women, women.—To the fair sex many of the attractions are dedicated, and it is through the fair sex that many of them are made possible.

Edith Mish, chosen the most beautiful woman at the University, will lead the style shows Thursday and Friday, presenting the very latest creations, while the most outstanding event of the Fiesta will be the announcing and coronation of the queen and her two attendants. Following this imposing ceremony, the queen will pick the lucky number and the winner of the grand prize, a radio, which is only one of the many free prizes to be awarded.

And who knows but what it may be the inspiration of the ladies that will decide the outcome and success of the wrestling, boxing, and fencing matches? What can be impossible for ladies who can inveigle savage football players into taking part in the chorus which opens the vaudeville act?

Many of the broadcasts of the program will be by women of the University, and at least one re-broadcast, that of Rudy Vallee, will be expressly for their benefit. Booths offering novelties in fiesta style will be presented by the different sororities, and women will vie with the men in selling the programs, an added attraction this year.

But while giving credit where credit is due, mention should be made of the women who have worked for weeks behind the scenes. All the art work of the carnival is under the direction of Katherine Cutler, as well as the judging of the poster contest in which all the high schools are entered.

In the carnival office, early and late, Louise Monroe and Sylvia Edlavitch may be seen performing the duties of secretaries. Clara Critchfield holds a position on the executive committee of the fiesta, while Louise Monroe and Amanda Chittum are helping to put across a novel vaudeville program.

Hats off, gentlemen; I give you,—to the ladies!

Glee Clubs Present Concert Selections

Tickets for Annual Sing and Dance May 15 at Willard
Now on Sale

Dr. Robert H. Harmon, director of the University Glee Clubs, has announced the program for the seventh annual spring concert of the University Glee Clubs which will be given Wednesday evening, May 15, in the main ballroom of the Willard Hotel. Fifty per cent of the proceeds will be devoted to the support of the University band.

The program for the concert is as follows:

Grant Us to Do With Zeal	Men	Bach
The Long Day Closes	Sullivan
Lo, How a Rose E'er Blooming	Prescorius
The Lost Chord	Sullivan
Sing We All Now With One Accord	Prætorius
To a Voice to Heaven Resounding	Bortolinsky
Jesus Friend of Sinners	Grieg
Praise to the Lord	Christianson
Echo Song	Men	Di Lasso
To All You Ladies Now on Land	Calcott
Jolly Roger	Candish
Merry Frogs	Speiser
Christ Is Arisen	Shubert
Lullaby	Mozart
Old Refrain	Kreisler
Gleanings	Men	First
Broken Melody	Men	Stratus
Ave Maria	Aradelt
Lullaby	Brasus
The Old Woman	Robertson
Street Song	Victor Herbert
Fierce Was the Wild Willow	Noble
Sandwich	Gounod
Kamelot Ostrow	Rubenstein

Devoting themselves to choral music of the highest order, the Glee Clubs have achieved an artistry which has brought wide recognition. First place in the National Intercollegiate Glee Club Competition was awarded to the men's club in 1930.

Clubs Popular in City

The Glee Clubs' annual spring concert not only is an outstanding University function, but is a musical event of importance in Washington. The clubs give frequent programs at important gatherings and over the radio. On a number of occasions they have sung with great success from the stages of local theatres. One of their outstanding appearances last year was at the inaugural ball where they were accorded an enthusiastic reception. During the winter, singing before Washington business and civic leaders at the Board of Trade dinner, there were very favorably received.

Tickets, at one dollar each, are now on sale at the Willard Hotel, Droop's Music Store, the Witt-Hamill Music Company, at the University and by members of the glee clubs, band and Student Council.

NOVEL FIESTA PROGRAM PLANNED TO FACILITATE HANDLING LARGE CROWD

man's bathrobe, stationery to be printed with name or monogram of winner, a brief case, 10 passes to "Take It Easy," the Troubadour show, six passes to professional wrestling bouts, a subscription for a limited period to the Washington Post, 12 boxes of candy, including Volatis, Polly Trent and Mother Goose brands.

On the Fiesta Midway at intervals, and free to all, will be the Spanish Whip-Cracker (a native of Catalonia), the Trick Violinist, men's and women's fencing teams, and two other free acts which will be announced later.

29 Midway Concessions

Another feature of this year's Fiesta will be the 29 interesting concessions, also located on the Midway. Those expected to prove most popular are Bingo, with accommodations for 55 players, a nail-driving booth, penny pitching dart wheels, candy stands, and a food stand, which will open at 6 o'clock each evening, where a special 30c plate dinner will be sold, in addition to the usual carnival fare of hot dogs, hamburgers, ice cream, etc.

Two shows that no fight-fan will want to miss will be the intramural boxing matches, and the Masked Marvel, who will take on all comers in wrestling. These are scheduled for 9:15 and 10:15, respectively, on all three nights of the Fiesta. Boxing bouts will be judged as follows: Thursday, Joe Cronin and Clark Griffith; Friday, Fred Stan, Dick O'Brien, and Bob McCormick, local boxing editors; Saturday, Bill Myers, Professor A. F. Johnson, and C. U. boxing coach, Eddie LaFond. Referees will be successively Goldie Ahearn, Max Farrington and Len Walsh.

In the side show, for one admission price, visitors to the Fiesta may gaze upon the awesome spectacles of the Strong Man, the Bearded Lady, the Canibal, "Jo-Jo," the Dog-faced Man and the Tattooed Man.

Two very original side-show attractions will be Maharajah Sampath, the Persian Mystic, whose identity will not be revealed, and Ol' Doc Toto, who will present to the public little feats of amateur magic and slight of hand, with which they will be able to mystify their friends.

Vaudeville, Dancing Planned

Another big show will be the vaudeville presented in the Fiesta Theatre located in Corcoran Hall. There will be three units, giving three performances each, and a special mid-night extravaganza on Friday, entitled "The Butcher, the Baker and Candlestick Maker," which will star Ziman, Lusby and Danzansky.

The Fiesta Ballroom open from 9 to 1, Thursday and Friday nights, with special singing and dancing program each night between 11 and 12, will have melodies furnished by the favorites of University dance: Jack Benson and his Orchestra; Bob Lavender and his Society Orchestra, and the two Morton units, Le Grande Orchestra and Maryland Collegians.

Dancing Saturday night will be open from 8 to 11:30. Following the coronation ceremony which will take place at that time, the Queen will be escorted to the ballroom to reign over the Fiesta through.

Luckies are all-ways kind to your throat

WHEREVER the finest tobaccos grow—in our own Southland, in Turkey, in Greece—all over the world, we gather the very Cream of the tobacco Crops for Lucky Strike. And that means only the clean center leaves. The center leaves are the mildest leaves—they taste better and farmers are paid higher prices for them. These clean center leaves are the only ones used in making Luckies. Then "It's toasted"—for throat protection. And every Lucky is fully packed with these choice tobaccos—made round and firm, free from loose ends—that's why Luckies "keep in condition"—why you'll find that Luckies do not dry out—an important point to every smoker. Colonials Encounter Washington, Wake Forest This Week

Pitchers in Good Form Supported by Team Batting Average of .348

With his team clicking perfectly in every department, Coach Ed Morris confidently awaits games Friday and Saturday with Washington College and Wake Forest, respectively. The former, decisively beaten here last week, will be met on its own diamond at Chestertown, Md., while the Wake Forest game will be played on the Ellipse, with Washington's Senators very much in evidence in Griffith Stadium.

Having won four of its five games in spectacular fashion and holding the only victory over Richmond recorded against that strong nine this season, the Colonial mentor is in a position to feel elated over his team's condition and outlook for the rest of the campaign.

Team Batting .348

The team batting average of the Colonials is an impressive .348 mark which is terribly high in any league. Just how long the club will maintain this feverish pace is problematical, but with his players clouting the ball at this rate, his pitchers turning in remarkable performances in every game, and his team fielding almost perfectly, the genial coach can ask for nothing more. With such an outstanding aggregation, all he has to worry about is over-confidence and the uncertainties of baseball.

Nichols, Tarver and Russell are the candidates in line for the pitching job against Washington, although Cal Griffith may get the assignment if he can make the trip. Nichols and Tarver are itching for the opportunity to pitch and Morris may use one or both to get a better line on them.

Scrivner's Turn Saturday
It'll be Archie Scrivner's turn for mound duty Saturday and Morris has indicated that the young left-hander will open the fireworks against Wake Forest.

The latest achievement for the fast Buff and Blue outfit was a 5-3 victory over Rockville in an exhibition in the Maryland town Sunday. Scrivner was in rare form, letting the home team down with two hits while fanning 12. He walked six but kept the passes scattered and little damage was done. An alien home run and a long double accounted for Rockville's tallies.

The Colonials played errorless ball and made eight hits, of which Russell was the leader with two.

Tulsa Coach Seeks Volk's Successor

TULSA, Okla., April 23.—Coach "Gloomy Gus" Henderson is desirous of filling the huge hole created by the graduation of Bill Volk, the six-foot six-inch guard who held up one side of the Tulsa line in all of its games last fall. The gloomy coach has been trying out almost every lineman on his squad with the hope of uncovering another Volk, or at least another suitable guard for the post, but so far none has filled the order.

Colonial Marksmen Garner Eight Wins In Eleven Matches

Participation in NRA and Intercollegiate Matches Highlights of Season

By Bill C. Martin, Jr.

Eight victories with only three defeats again this year placed Colonial marksmen at the top of the list in their rifle schedule. Parsons' men inaugurated their 1934 season on January 13 when four lettermen entered the National Intercollegiate Individual Match. This match, shot under strict NRA regulations, allowed two strings of 10 shots each, with one minute a shot, from prone, kneeling and standing positions. The Buff and Blue, firing the initial telegraphic engagement, easily defeated Johns Hopkins the week ending February 10, and a week later outpointed V. M. I. at Lexington in a shoulder to shoulder match.

Maryland and Iowa were the first contestants to frustrate the Colonials by wire. But the Washingtonians during the succeeding weeks regained their equilibrium and out-classed V. M. I. in a return shoulder-to-shoulder bout on the Colonial range, Maryland, there, and V. P. I. in a telegraphic contest. Challenge matches against Pittsburgh and Cincinnati Universities later brought added honors to the Buff and Blue marksmen.

A victory over Georgetown and a defeat from Navy evened the results in the next encounters; and the regional Intercollegiate Championship Matches, in Annapolis, March 24, closed the Buff and Blue rifle season under the direction of Coach Frank Parsons, Jr., when the local shooters, placed sixth.

Boxers, Wrestlers Meet
All men who are to participate in the boxing or wrestling shows of the University Fiesta will meet in the gymnasium at 3 p. m. today. It is essential that all participants be present to receive final instructions.

Johns Hopkins Hands Net Team First Defeat Wins 7-2 After Varsity Takes Three Straight

After sweeping three straight matches, the varsity tennis team was handed its first defeat by Johns Hopkins Saturday in Baltimore. 7-2. The Blue Jays, thoroughly acquainted with every hole and small ditch in their courts, took five of the six singles matches and two of the three doubles encounters.

Teddy Pierce, number five Colonial, was the only local to down his opponent, finally triumphing after three fast sets, 5-7, 6-3, 6-4. Pierce was not affected by the Hopkins courts like his mates, who found their driving games disrupted by the rough surface. Langtry Carries Load
G. W.'s other victory was in the number two doubles when Langtry and Moore overcame a slow first set to win 2-6, 6-4, 6-3. The former, not tired by singles play, carried the brunt of the work for his team after Moore's errors threatened disaster. Earlier in the week the team added

Pre-Medics Upset Flashy Engineers to Gain League Lead

Leemans Is Hurling Star As Junior College Downs Columbian 8-2

Pre-Medics	2	0
Engineers	2	1
Junior Col.	1	1
Columbian	0	1
Pharmacy	0	2

By Nelson Barnhart

A new contender for the intramural diamond championship arose last week in the form of the Pre-Medic nine which scored a stunning upset over the favored Engineers, 17-5 and placed themselves at the head of the standings. In the other two games, Junior College defeated Columbian and Pharmacy defaulted to the Engineers.

With their star twirler and several other regulars absent, the Engineers never had a chance against the Pre-Medics and after the latter scored 10 runs in the first inning it was just a matter of playing it out. Weingartner held the Engineers to three hits while his mates collected 11 off Tingley. Grey lead the attack with four bingles out of four times up.

Tuffy Leemans showed he possessed pitching skill in addition to his other athletic abilities by limiting Columbian College to two hits and shut them out until the fifth when Forst connected for a terrific home run. Junior College gathered five hits and three walks off Whitley, two of the hits coming from the bat of Cecil McGibbony.

Revised Schedule:

SPORT AXE

By ROBERT HERZOG

IT'S A FUNNY sensation to sit in an American League ball park and gaze through empty stands while a good ball game is in progress on the diamond. Such is the sensation when the diamonders of George Washington set the pace at the Griffith subdivision. Capt. Zahn leads the men on the field—the ump calls for the first batter but the stands are still pitifully empty. Scattered very sparingly over the 35,000 capacity stadium are a few old reliables and a few "occasional" fans. Coaches Walsh, Pixlee and Lee sit in a field box with official scorer Morris (wife of the coach). A rooting section of a half dozen sports followers gathers over the dug-out. Among them are Benny Leviten, Randy Robinson, Zuzu Stewart, Johnny Baker, sports editor Busick and ye scribe. In the Presidential box owner Griffith and niece watch the Colonials step through their paces. Ball park employees take time out for every crack of the bat and follow the collegians up the base lines with fractionally-attentive eyes. And the boys do their share by putting up a swell game—but only a handful of people come out to cheer them on and take advantage of the gala show. For the price of one stub from the activities book you may witness a high grade performance—everyone is expected at the next home engagement. The University is lending its name to a worthy cause—you are expected to lend your support. Imagine being a good deed done at the small cost of attending a swell ball game.

GOLF, which nationally attracts more people than any other branch of sport, is being banned at G. W. this year for lack of support. Dean Alexander croons at the Gingham Club... the cast on Benefield's leg contains the signatures of all campus celebrities... the Wake Forest paper announces that several men have come out for their track team since the scheduling of a meet with G. W.; and we don't even have a track team... a frosh relay team will be entered in the annual Central "C" club meet.

IT LOOKS as though Tuffy Leemans and Heinie Weingartner of the intramural league should be on Mr. Morris' roster... local boxing promoters are eyeing Prather with those wishful orbs... Wright alias Bankhead of the Washington Passers will get a big league opportunity shortly... Johnny Baker is planning to go to California via the canal shortly and he has been so expecting for some time... the May 5 opening of Glen Echo is welcome news to G. Straters Hickman, Parrish, Carter, and Laas... the Fiesta Masked Marvel worked out in the Colonial gym Sunday... unselfish support of athletic department personnel helped immensely in arrangements for the putting-on of the Fiesta wrestling and boxing shows.

Squared Circle Fighters Climax Season With Flashy Card Scheduled for Fiesta

Hard Fought Bouts Expected As Leading Mitmen Engage in Final Ring Event; Al Robins and Eddie Saugstad Meet in Bantamweight Feature

By Robert Herzog

Coach Harry Kleinman will lead the pugilists of Squared Circle into the climax of their season this week when they meet in a series of nine exhibition bouts as a feature of the all-University Fiesta. Starting each Fiesta night, at 9:15 p. m. the local glove slingers will go through three two minute rounds for the final scraps of the year.

Thursday night in the bantamweight division Al Robins will face Eddie Saugstad for the championship of the group. A fast moving fight is anticipated. Robins is the proud possessor of a tell-tale one-two punch which he will use frequently against the clever, well-trained Saugstad.

Prather in Feature
Dale Prather, giant tackle candidate, will be pushed to his utmost to again down the "crooning heavyweight" Dean Alexander. Several weeks ago Prather outlasted the "mike artist" in a slow well fought three-round affair. When the two lads meet on Friday night's card the superior type of amateur fight will be displayed.

The same night "little dean" Ruediger, flashy 155-pound titleholder of the club will oppose D. C. Stutler for the second time. Ruediger took three rounds to trim the latter when they met at the "Y" last month.

Other fights scheduled for the Fiesta are: Thursday night, Rogers vs. Rhodes; Brown vs. Stewart; Friday night, Stewart vs. Mann; Saturday night, Cloud vs. Thomas; Barth vs. Brown; Oponick vs. Hughes.

Frosh Tennis Team To Meet Episcopal

Central Is Defeated 5-2; Dial, Timberlake and Gwin Take Singles

When the dust clears at Episcopal this afternoon G. W.'s freshman tennisists shouldn't be surprised to find their winning streak extended to four straight. The Alexandrians boast one of the country's strongest junior players in Donald Lay, but the balance of the team has shown but little power in previous matches.

Central, inter-high titleholder, was victimized, 5-2, last Wednesday by Farrington's flashy netmen. Dial, Timberlake and Gwin accounted for three single points, while Kent Boyle's cool play in the first doubles put the match on ice. In his singles match Boyle managed to lose to Ritzenberg; score reading like the Czechoslovakian war debt, 3-6, 8-6, 6-4. Howell scored the second point for Central when a "damp" knee compelled him to default to Root in the second set.

Last Friday's match with Western High was postponed because of puddled courts, and will be staged May 4, Pluvius permitting.

Bourke Floyd '35 says

Those gabardine Bello-swing suits that he mentioned last week are great for all around purposes. He says, "use the coat as a sport coat or the trousers as sport trousers in addition to wearing the coat and trousers with the vest as a suit." "That's economy," says Bourke, "and Grosner of 1825 F street are great on working out little ideas like this."—Adv.

SUMMER in NEW YORK

TO the student of cultural subjects who wishes to make up deficiencies or shorten his college work, the advantages of summer study in New York are immediately clear. The museums are at hand—the libraries, theatres, public buildings. And, within a stone's throw, are the famous resorts of Long Island, Connecticut and the New Jersey shore. To all these, the Washington Square College of New York University affords the student easy access.

Courses with full college credit are offered in Biology, Chemistry, Economics, English, French, Geology, German, Government, History, Italian, Mathematics, Philosophy, Physics, Psychology, Public Speaking, Sociology, and Spanish.

The term is from June 26 to September 14. For detailed information (residence facilities, fees, admissions, etc.) address Director of the Summer Term, Washington Square College.

Post Feature Editor Talks to Journalists

"Women in Journalism" Is Topic of Address at Gamma Eta Zeta Meeting

"Women in Journalism," was the subject of a talk by Mrs. Laura M. Vitrey, feature editor and editor of the Sunday rotogravure section of the Washington Post, at the reception given last Wednesday evening by Gamma Eta Zeta, women's honorary journalistic sorority, for all women in the University publications.

The reception followed the initiation of Catherine Phelps, Frances Hand, and Therese Herman. It is the first reception of this type which the sorority has held, and was planned to bring university women in contact with the outside field of journalism.

The main requirement for a newspaper reporter, according to Mrs. Vitrey, is the ability to write good English sentences. She cited her own experiences to prove this statement.

The daily diet of a New York reporter, said Mrs. Vitrey, are murder trials and New York gangsters who thank reporters for publicity. She also told her experiences in reporting the kidnapping of the Lindbergh baby, and other outstanding cases.

Newman Club Plans Monthly Convention

Sixty Visitors Expected to Attend Conference May 13, 14

The Colonial Newman Club will be host to more than 60 visiting Newmanites on May 13 and 14, the occasion of the monthly meeting of representatives from all member clubs of the Middle Atlantic Province of the National Federation of College Catholic Clubs, according to announcements made by Robert Austin, general chairman of the conference.

The program will open on Saturday evening May 13, with a formal dance at the Mayflower Hotel, lasting from 10 to 1. Music will be furnished by Jerboe's "Night Hawks." Norbert Hipp is chairman of the dance committee.

Delegates to Attend Mass

All delegates from visiting chapters and local members will attend the 9 o'clock mass at the Immaculate conception Church, Eighth and N streets N. W., and will receive Holy Communion in a body. This feature of the program has been arranged upon invitation extended by the Rev. Dr. John Keating Cartwright, pastor, who is also spiritual advisor of the Newman Club.

Following the mass, breakfast will be served at the Mayflower Hotel. Loretta Cunningham is chairman of the committee in charge of plans for the breakfast.

Meeting in Lambie House

At 2 p. m. Sunday, May 14, the visiting delegates will hold the regular monthly meeting of the Province in the Lambie House. Following the meeting an informal reception and tea will be held at the same place.

Additional officers of the conference are Marie Dobrin, social chairman, Elizabeth Geiger, publicity chairman, and Leonard Ebel, treasurer.

Advance notice received from Philadelphia indicates an attendance of 40 or more Newmanites from that city. Additional representatives will be present from Johns Hopkins University, the University of Maryland, the University of Virginia, William and Mary College, and from several other points in the East.

WHO'S WHO ON THE CAMPUS

Newell Lusby, stage and production manager of Cue and Curtain, claimed that the recent production of "Journey's End" was the toughest proposition he has thus far tackled. He speaks from a wide dramatic and production experience.

He came to the University in 1931 from Eastern High School where he had the Brown University Alumni Cup for Dramatic Excellence. Upon entrance he immediately became an assistant electrician for Cue and Curtain's production of "The Queen's Husband." The next play given by Cue and Curtain was "The Contrast," for which Lusby was the head electrician. He was stage manager for "Cock Robin" as well as playing in the cast. He was also stage manager for "The Romantic Young Lady." This year he has been stage and production manager for all Cue and Curtain productions.

In addition to all of this he is a member of the Drama Board, Phi Eta Sigma, freshman honorary scholastic Society, and Alpha Eta Epsilon, national honorary dramatic fraternity. His social fraternity is Kappa Sigma. This marks his last year with the university dramatic organizations, for next year he intends to enter law school and expects to have no time for extra-curricular activities.

The way tobacco is cut has a lot to do with the way Chesterfield burns and tastes

There are many different ways of cutting tobacco.

A long time ago, it used to be cut on what was known as a Pease Cutter, but this darkened the tobacco, and it was not uniform.

The cutters today are the most-improved, modern, up-to-the-minute type. They cut uniformly, and cut in long shreds.

The tobacco in Chesterfield is cut right—you can judge for yourself how Chesterfields burn and how they taste.

Everything that science knows is used to make Chesterfield the cigarette that's milder . . . the cigarette that tastes better.
